Red Skirts on Clydeside

(1984, 43min)

Introduced by filmmaker Jenny Woodley

A thread of Glasgow's history once all but forgotten is brought to life in the words of women who knew Mary Barbour, Helen Crawford, and Agnes Dollan. Hear how the sheriff officers got chucked into the midden and how the tenement back courts echoed with radical ideas!

You Play Your Part

(2011, 24min)

Introduced by filmmaker Kirsten MacLeod

Twenty-seven years after the original film was made, Govan women reflect on their lives and roles by the Clyde in a unique collaborative women's history film project.
